

Ushio Chujo

Apr. 2020-	Special Adviser, Global Centre, the University of Nagano
Apr. 2018-Mar. 2020	Director, Global Centre, UN
Apr. 2018-	Professor, Faculty of Global Business Management, UN
Apr. 2016-	Professor Emeritus, Keio University
Apr. 2016-	Guest Professor, Kyoto University of Advanced Science
Apr. 2016-	Official Adviser, All Nippon Airways Research Institute
Apr. 2016-	Official Adviser, Japan Airport Terminal
Apr. 1992-Mar. 2016	Professor, Faculty of Business & Commerce, Keio University
Sept.1984-Jan. 1986	Swire Cathay Visiting Fellow, St. Antony's College, Oxford University
Apr.1975-Mar.1992	Assistant professor, Associate Professor, Faculty of Business & Commerce, Keio University

Major field : Public Policies and Public Economics, esp. on transport sector.

Deregulation Warrior: A leading scholar of deregulation movement through the 1990s and 2000s called as "Deregulation Warrior" by the famous American magazine. Had been appointed as a member of several Government councils on regulatory reforms. Sharp critics on Japanese severely regulated transport industries in 1990s had led me purge from the councils of the Ministry of Transport. This aggressive character might come from my given name, Ushio, a destroyer of Imperial Japanese Navy in the World War II.

Books : Chujo.U.,Illusion of Air Transport, Chuo Keizai 2012

Chujo.U.,Deregulation, Toyokeizai,1995

and more than twenty books. over 200 articles.

Active Economist: Involved in the establishment of Skymark Airlines in 1996 to destroy rigid airline market under the tough government regulation greatly delayed behind the world deregulation standard.

Society Leader: Former President of the Japan Transport Academic Society. Former vice-president of the East Asia Transport Society.

Failed Management: A failed manager of a shot bar and a restaurant bar.

Wind Surfer : Planing is one of the most wonderful things in my life.